The Magic Of Nature

INTRODUCTION

The Magic Of Nature

My degree show was inspired by the observation and close encounters of the seen and the hidden happenings in nature, the ecology of plants and insects through the seasons of change and cycles of life.

The paintings are a mixture of abstraction, realism and imagination. The flowers and herbs in these paintings are expressed within the magic of nature and the secret life beneath and above the ground. Magic exists in nature in a world of intense light and mysterious darkness where plants and insects dance the dance. The paintings are a visual interpretation of this magic.

Lukestone Farm

Sheena and her husband Iain live on a hill farm in Inverclyde and have embarked on a journey of regenerative farming, capturing carbon and increasing biodiversity of life above and below the ground. This biodiversity on the farm with its herbal grassland and insect life has become an ever increasing source of inspiration for Sheena's art.

With many thanks to my husband Iain and to our daughters Mairi & Fiona for all their support & encouragement.
